FSG Installs New Signage for Area Restaurant Renovation

Challenge

For Square Patty, LLC, a Wendy's franchise owner in San Antonio, Texas, a remodel and renovation project at one of its area locations would require new and updated signage. Square Patty contracted with National Signs to provide the new signage elements, but it needed a local contractor to install and commission the new signs for the restaurant. To complete that work, Square Patty contacted FSG's San Antonio branch.

Solution

FSG removed existing signs at the location to make way for the new signage elements. Upon receipt of the new signage from National Signs, FSG installed the new equipment. Additionally, FSG retrofitted, re-faced, and painted pylon signage for the customer. The two-month project was completed on time and on budget for the customer.

Result

FSG proved to be a reliable signage installation partner for Square Patty. All signs for the newly-renovated restaurant location were installed and commissioned to the customer's ultimate satisfaction.
